- Other fruit trees

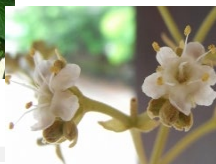

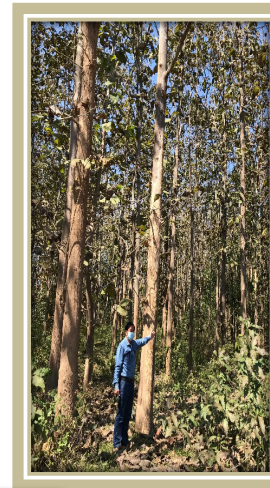

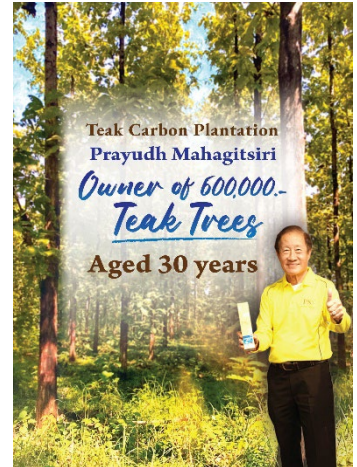

Carbon Teak Company Limited

- 600,000 Teak trees that are approximately 30 years old
- Size of trees from 70cm-185cm circumference
- The teak tree benefits are enormous for mankind, not only shown naturally as a majestic tree, the teak plant has many beneficial qualities
 - A. It is considered the best for decorative furniture for housing and even used in the interiors of luxury cars, aircrafts and yachts.
 - B. The teak plant also has great contributions to health.

Health Benefits of the Teak Plant

- ❖ Leaves & bark can be used for various skin diseases
 - ❖ Teak flowers are good for curing bronchitis
 - ❖ Ground bark powder can be mixed with specific oil and can relieve inflammation
 - ❖ Wood powder reduces headaches and toothaches and inflammation on the skin.

Teak for Furniture and Decoration

- Teak is considered to be one of the highest qualities of wood that exists in the world today.
- Teak possesses many amazing qualities, such as being sturdy wood, very workable, resistant to rot, fungus, termites and even fire due to the wood's high oil content. For these reasons it has been the pillar of the shipbuilding industry for centuries. It's the best material for ship and yacht decks.
- Along with its rarity, honey-hue, teak wood is used to create a prestigious, privileged and luxurious feel.
- Teak products are used in ship building, luxury furniture, home decoration, and the interior decoration of automobiles, airplanes, yachts and luxury cruise ships.

Teak Wood Is High-Quality, Prestigious and Expensive

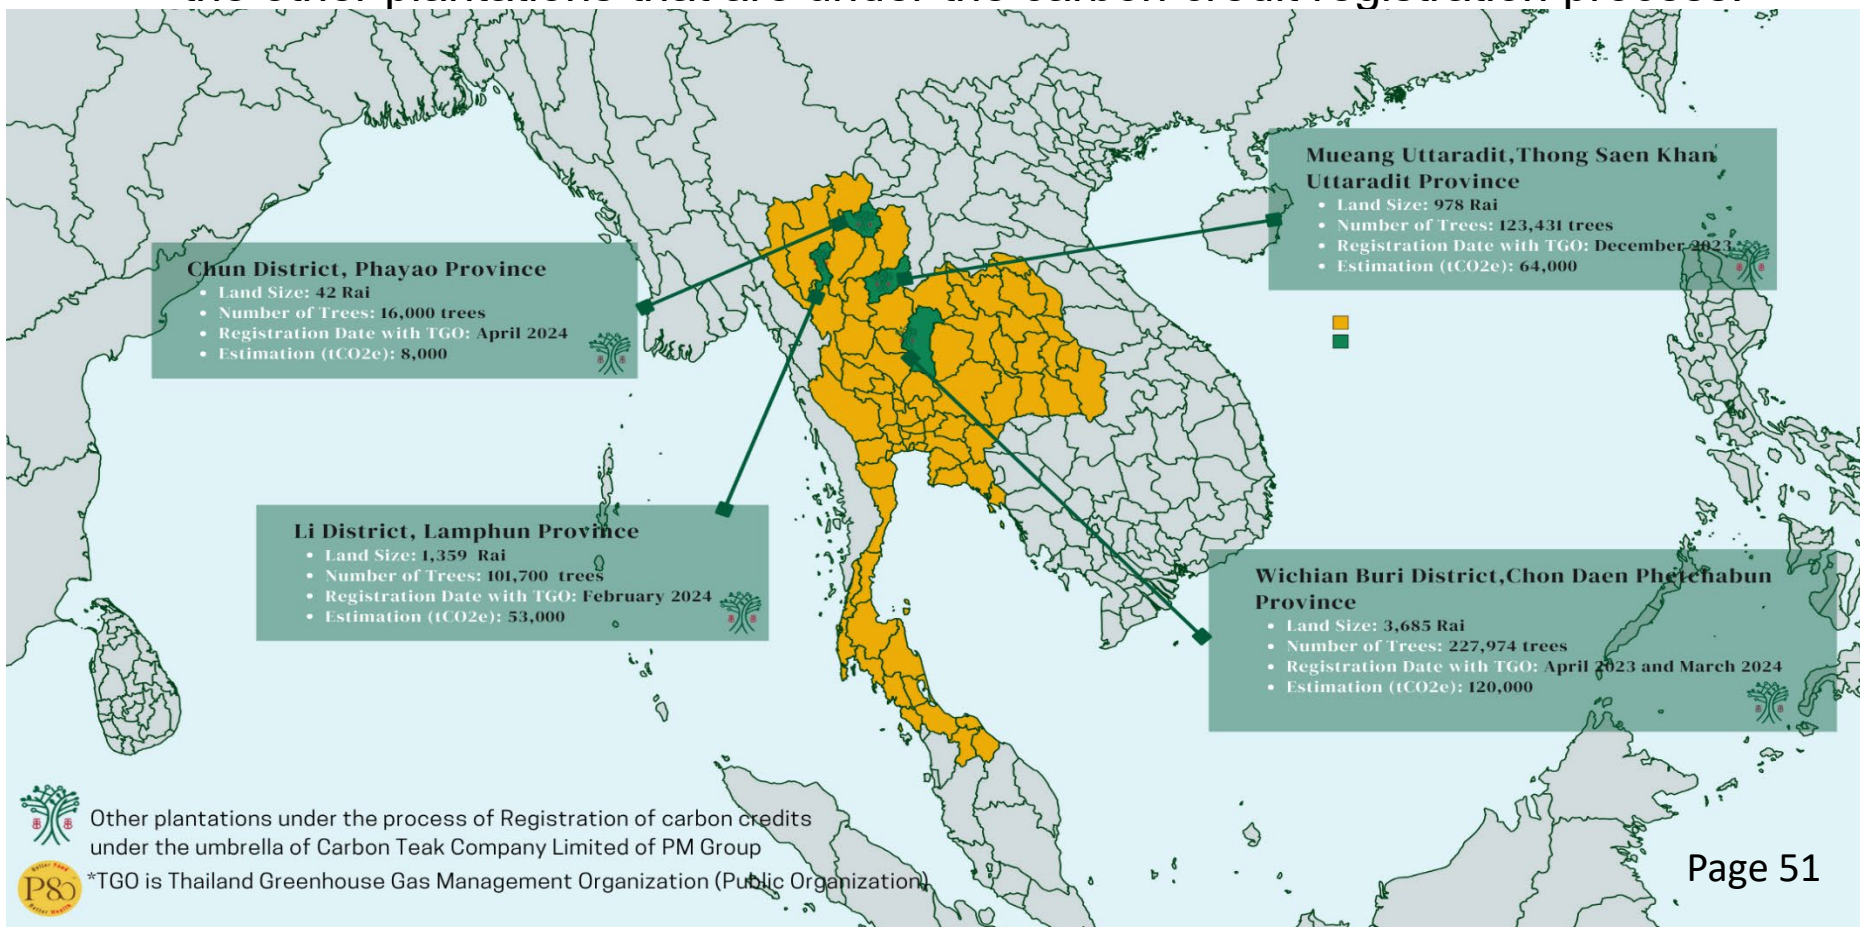

Advantages of Teak Wood

- High Aesthetic Appeal : Teak wood has great aesthetic appeal. Its rich golden brown resonates with gold and the color darkens over time.
- Waterproof: Due to its high oil content and extremely tight grains, it has a very low moisture permeable rate and is suited for ships, pools, and seaside areas or any water resistance required areas. It is rarely affected by plant fungi and therefore resistance to surface damage. As teak wood reacts minimally to moisture in environment it is not prone to much swelling.
- Durability: Teak wood furniture can last very long time.
- Workability: With its durability, it can be crafted to fit different places, shapes and usages.
- High price: With both look and functionality, teak is highly sought after and thus commands a high price.
- Cost Effective: Many hotel also adopts teak usage since it matches with luxurious feel, long life expectancy, ease of maintenance therefore reducing the overall replacement cost.

Carbon Teak Company Limited and Carbon Credit Registration Roadmap with TGO

Carbon Teak Company Limited: Carbon credits will have approximately 500,000 tons of carbon dioxide equivalent from the teak trees and also all the other plantations that are under the carbon credit registration process.

Discovery of Montmorillonite

Montmorillonite – Reserves in Hand 100 rais (160,000 sqm) 9 million tons of MMT

Montmorillonite – Property and Usage

Superior Clay Property with 3 Nano-Layers

- Montmorillonite (MMT) is a natural clay mineral belonging to the smectite group. It is a product of volcanism and hydrothermal activity.
- MMT color can ranged from white, yellow, green pink and red.
- Due to its 3 Nano-layers structure, MMT takes up water between their layers and can exchange organic liquids.
- MMT Nano Clays has superior overall properties compared to traditional additives and fillers, for example, strength, stiffness, optical clarity and permeability.

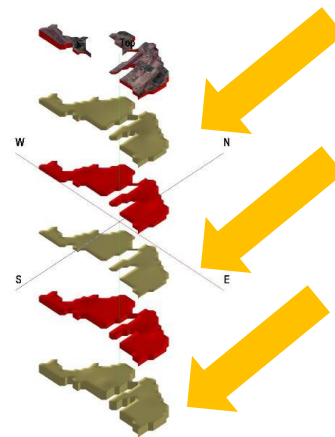

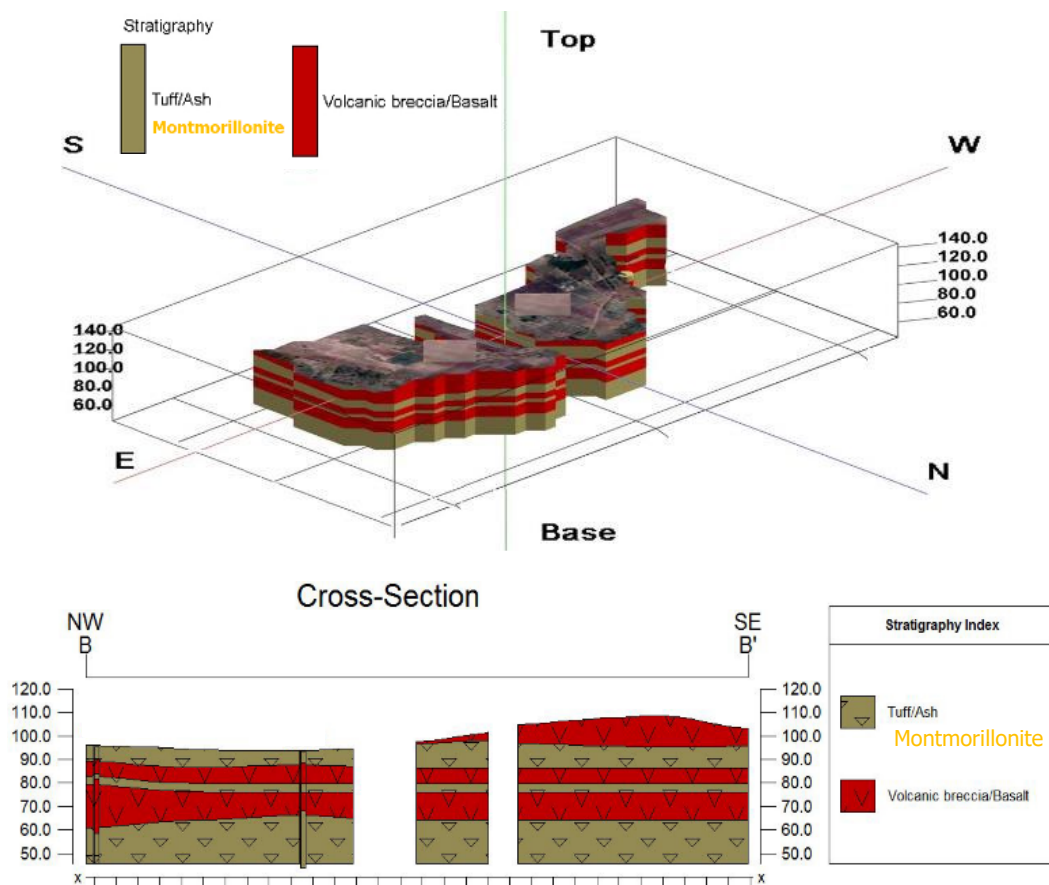

Usage

- Cattle feed and pet food: MMT clay is used as an anti-caking agent.
- Bleaching Agent: For vegetable oil and biodiesel oil.
- Alcohol Beverage: In powder form, it can be used as flocculant by tossing into the pond or pools of water. Same method could be used to purify organic matter in water.
- Cosmetic: MMT is used to absorb excess water and oil, reduce too high cosmetic density, stabilize ingredient formula, extend shelf life, adjust cosmetic viscosity and used in deep cleansing

Montmorillonite – Reserves in Hand 100rais(160,000 sqm) area
